FACULTY

The administration and faculty form the foundation of the school unit. Upon their shoulders rests the great task of stimulating the students with the desire to learn, and offering them the trained leadership which must guide them throughout their high school education. They are trusted by the community to develop this ceaseless process, and to prepare each student for continuing this life-long project.

Dr. Lawrence Valade, Assistant Superintendent in charge of Administration.

Administration • • • • •

Oak Park's Board of Education, composed of lay citizens, sets the policy throughout the school system. Another of its more important functions is providing adequate funds for maintaining school operations. The school board is the citizens' link to the education of their children, and all meetings are open to the public.

The Superintendent of Schools carries out the policies established by the board and oversees the general activities of the school district. To help him with the great amount of work which the job entails, the superintendent has three administrative assistants; a business manager, a curriculum co-ordinator and an assistant supervisor.

ler, Mr. Leland Smith, Dr. Herbert Warren, Dr. Morris Weiss, Mrs. Selma Shargel.

Here in Oak Park, the Board of Education, the Administration and the Faculty have planned a school program that serves both the individual needs of every boy and every girl and the complex needs of the country. Throughout the land there is increased awareness of an urgent need to provide youth with an education that liberates the mind from ignorance and provides them with wholesome American philosophy of life and with the common knowledges and skills every person should have, no matter what his vocation may be. In our schools, the student is no mere receptacle wherein information can be stored. At every level he is expected to be an active learner, growing in his ability to think clearly and independently and to act honestly and sincerely. These are essential to educate for freedom and contribute to personal satisfaction and social usefulness.

Arthur Matthews

Dr. Arthur Matthews was principal at Royal Oak Kimball High before becoming principal at Oak Park last year. He attended Harvard University, Tufts University, and Wayne State University. He holds the A.B., M.Ed., and E.D.D. degrees.

Working As a Unit DR. ARTHUR MATTHEWS

The principal and assistant principal are responsible for the smooth and efficient operation of the school. They make the rules for the school in accordance with school board recommendations, and theirs is the final decision on all school projects and functions. The many contacts that we have with these people are actually only a small part of the total activity that goes on in the main office.

MR. JOHN KOUZOUJIAN

Congratulations Seniors. It has been a very pleasant experience working with such a cooperative and energetic group as the Class of 1962. I am certain your past actions and achievement will serve as a model in providing a continuous flow of successful experiences in the future.

John Kouzoujian

Mr. John Kouzoujian, assistant principal, taught classical literature at Oak Park before assuming his present post last year. Graduated from Eastern Michigan University and Wayne State University, he holds the B.S. and M.Ed. degrees.

Counselors

Our Guides

The many duties of the Oak Park counselors include parent conferences, four year programs, aptitude tests, college and vocational guidance. The counselor also meets with each student at least once a year for scheduling. Through these contacts with the student and by making use of the materials available to him, the counselor is in an excellent position to advise on matters concerning grades, college and career. Also, the counselor is always ready to discuss any personal problems with the student.

In addition to specialized counseling training, each counselor has had classroom experience, and therefore can make competent decisions and offer constructive criticism and suggestions.

The counselor's office is not means to be a setting for a melodramatic crying session, rather, the one place where the parents, student and counselor can meet for a serious discussion of present activities and future plans.

Communication of Ideas

Through English

The English teachers, composing our largest department, represent many facets of our language; from elementary grammar to advanced composition, from journalism to classical literature, from the drama club to the debate team. The student is first given a thorough background in fundamental grammar and with this basis can progress into fields of his greatest interest.

As a supplement to required reading, our school possesses a fine library containing many books, and staffed with four librarians who are always willing to help the students use any facilities and reading matter. The librarians and teachers work together, in order to supply an adequate amount of information for the greatest number of students.

Math The Language

Mathematics, the exact science, is becoming more and more important as science and knowledge progress. Knowledge of math, often called the language of science, must be developed for understanding new and fascinating discoveries.

In keeping with the times, Oak Park's math department has turned to a modern teaching method developed at the University of Illinois, by Dr. Max Beberman and Dr. Herbert Vaughn. This method, which stresses the student's own thinking, is also being introduced at Oak Park's junior high schools, in a program designed at the University of Maryland.

Science Spells Progress

With today's rapid scientific progress, the Oak Park science department has felt the need for expansion and further development. All experts in their particular fields, the teachers combine friendliness and cooperation with serious instruction to form a good atmosphere for study. In addition to teaching the scientific method of observation and experimentation, they have the difficult job of conveying intricate and complex principles to the students. They demonstrate important basic ideas with advanced technical devices, and in laboratory work the students actually see what they are studying.

Languages Promote Understanding

In our complex and expanding world, communication with people of other nations, and understanding their cultures and ideas, becomes increasingly valuable. In Oak Park's language classes, while learning to read and write a language, the students become acquainted with that country's customs and traditions, be it ancient Rome or modern France.

The language teacher has the unique problem of introducing a subject to the students, who are, in most cases, completely unfamiliar. The teacher must use many different kinds of teaching methods to present the subject matter effectively. As an aid to the teachers, the high school has a modern language laboratory, equipped with individual booths, recording devices, earphones, and microphones. This allows the instructor to work individually with each student.

The Cultural Aspect

These two departments, art and music, provide a cultural outlet for the teenager's creative abilities. The teachers try to give the students some way of expressing their artistic interests. They also acquaint them with the history of the fine arts. The students learn to appreciate and understand the creations and developments of the music and art worlds.

Physical Education

The physical education training program, as most Oak Park students certainly realize, is more than a play hour. The physical education teachers try to develop and train their pupils toward physical fitness and manual dexterity. In addition, the students learn sportsmanship and cooperation, which are of immense importance in order to take a responsible position in the adult world.

Industrial Arts

In the industrial arts program, students are given an opportunity to develop skills and interests in vocations and hobbies, and are taught to use modern machines in a safe and serious atmosphere.

These people, working in the background, form an indispensable part of the school staff. They come in contact with more students every day than any teacher. Familiar to all the students, they are extremely important in running the efficient operation of the school.

UNDERCLASS

The following section is devoted to the recognition of the underclass. The underclass is not merely composed of freshmen, sophomores and juniors. It is an organized group of people who represent the majority of school spirit and scholarly ideas. They are the ones who must take over the reigns of leadership at the exit of each senior class. In the eyes of many seniors, an underclassman is considered almost a nonentity, however, his position should be recognized for the importance which he plays in high school affairs.

Freshmen Lay A Strong Foundation

Freshmen Class Officers Top: Larry Tillem-President, Harvey Rubin-Vice President. Bottom: Susie Weisberg-Treasurer, Jo-Anne Gendel-Secretary.

The freshman class this year is the largest group ever entering Oak Park High School. They represent over one third of the total school population.

For their first function they presented a dance, which was held on November 17, 1961, entitled the "Harvest Hop". It was enjoyed by all who attended and was a success both socially and financially.

Though the freshman class is just beginning high school life, they have excelled in school spirit, which is the most important factor in maintaining a successful class, and have laid a solid foundation for their coming high school years.

Ron, Mel, Merrill, Bob and Ron all seem to be enjoying themselves at the Senior Flashback Dance.

Sophomores Play Their Part

A good reason why the underclass has enjoyed such a successful year was due to the class of 1964. The sophomores have been active in most school activities and their presence was always noticed in the student council and other school clubs.

Some sophomores played their part in most athletic teams, with some gaining post-season honors. Their toboggan party in January was thoroughly enjoyed by all and their February dance was also a huge success.

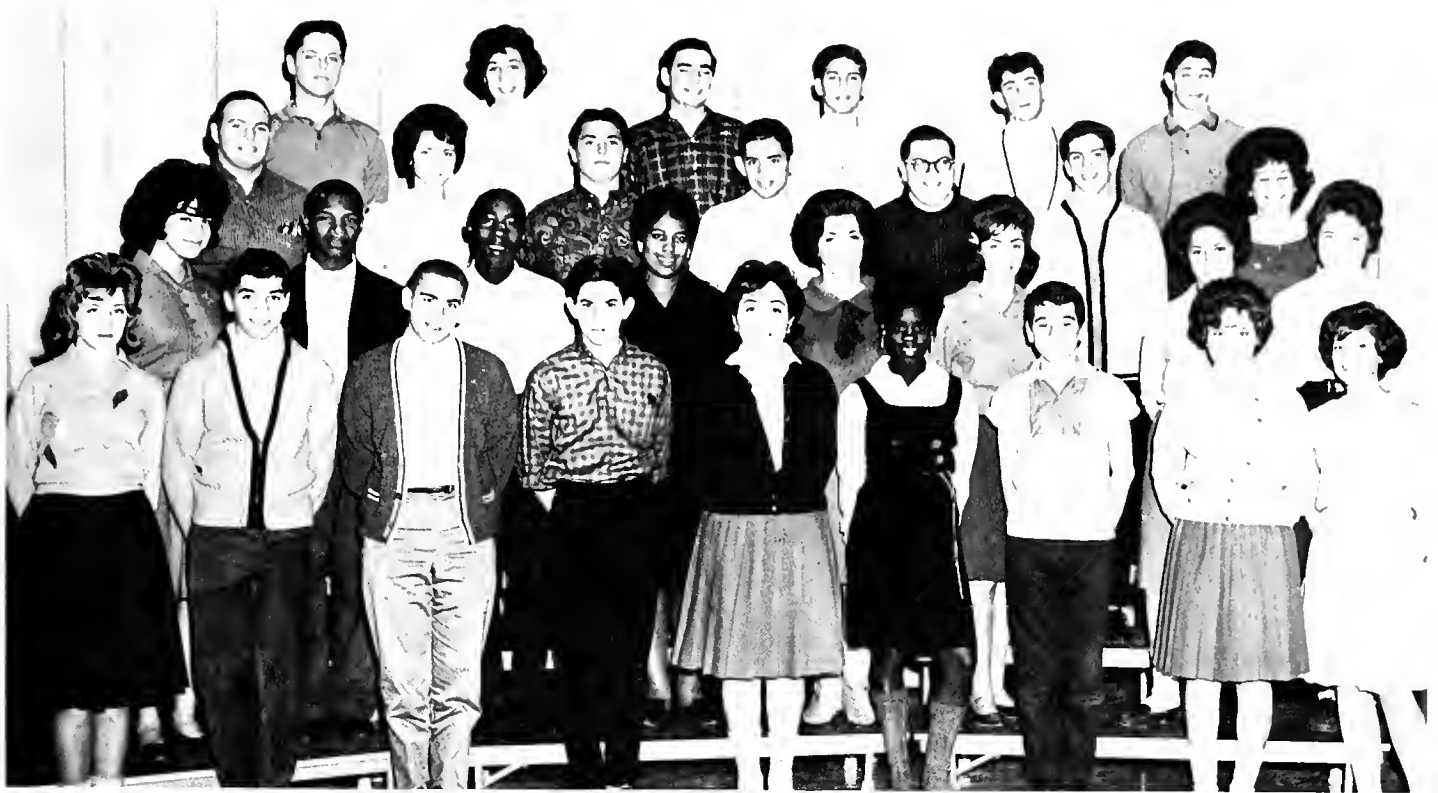

While only in their second year of high school, the class of '64 has laid an excellent foundation for their junior and senior years and should continue to be a strong nucleus of our school.

Bottom: Gena Gersten-Secretary, Sandi Blum-Treasurer.*

The Junior Prom brought the activities of the Class of '63 to a close. The Prom was a successful and memorable event which few juniors will ever forget, and all those participating felt that it had been well worth the hours spent in planning.

In addition to the Junior Prom, the class prepared and sponsored numerous activities which would bring, along with a good time, a growth of school spirit. The spirit of Halloween was exhibited at the "Witches Wobble", and a Toboggan Party offered hours of fun for all toboggan enthusiasts. Also included in their activities was the annual "Sadie Hawkins Dance".

As a result of the student co-operation displayed throughout the year, it is evident that the Class of '63 will go on to enjoy a fruitful and rewarding senior year.

SENIORS

Four years of high school has provided the class of '62 with an opportunity to excel in many, varied activities. Through their experiences at Oak Park High, the seniors have gathered much knowledge which will prove helpful in their later life. As they go their separate ways, the seniors of '62 can look back upon their past years and be proud of their achievements.

ACTIVITIES & CLUBS

The well rounded scholastic program includes many varied, interesting, and educational, extracurricular activities. Oak Park's field of after school activities is as wide as one's imagination. The school offers a chance for singers, politicians, debaters, athletes, actors, linguists, and future doctors and teachers to develop their skills. Along with serving themselves, those who participate in the activities serve their school as well.

Although the weather was soggy, the spirits of these Oak Park rooters were not dampened. The watchers were rewarded with a Homecoming victory over Lake Orion and during the half-time the stands were treated to a Homecoming Parade where the queen and her court were presented.

Redskins whoop it up for Eugene Stevelberg presents Pam Epstein with her crown to reign over Homecoming.

For the first time since the start of Homecoming at Oak Park, each grade was called upon to present the school with a plaque depicting its role. Here, two Redskins examine the plaques and say "Heep, Biggum-Good."

The fairest of the fair were chosen by a school wide vote to reign as the beauties Homecoming. Left to right are: Marlene Verier, Sue Nelson, Pam Epstein, Rita Bergman, Joyce Gold, and Sue Albert.

For the second time in a row the Seniors won "The Little Red Spirit Jug" during Oak Park's Homecoming. Their plaque, "Kowabunga," was their reigning symbol.

To all who attended this year's Homecoming Dance, the experience will be a lasting memory. The decorations by Maxine Berman provided a beautiful background for dancing to the music of Stuart Stefer's band.

Eugene Stevelberg escorts Pam Epstein, the reigning queen of Homecoming, to the dance following the game.

The success of this year's Follies was due to the large and talented cast. Every type of talent imaginable was displayed from bird-calls to jitterbugging. The theme "Down On the Farm" lent itself perfectly to the various acts. Thanks go also Things are broken up, "Down On the Farm". Marsha Femer and Lynn Weiss are dancin up the cornfield.

During the Fall of every year, the Oak Park High School P.T.S.A. presents the Oak Park Follies, an entertaining revue full of humor, songs, dance, and just about anything you can think of. The theme of this years Follies was "Down On the Farm." As in the past this years Follies was a great success and was one of the many things that added to a great year at O.P.H.S.

Well pardners, the show looks pretty good. That rough tough hambre Art Schwartz has russelled himself up some mighty pretty gals; Lorrie Levine and JoAnne Katanick.

"I'm An Indian Too" sang Sandy Blum.

Frolic, Fantasy, and Fun THE FOLLIES

"Don't Fence Me In" sing Sue Albert, Linda Balberman, Sandy Zucker, Sue Blumenthal. Linda Weiss and Diane Soloman.

Each year, the P.T.S.A. of Oak Park High School awards a deserving student with the Francis V. Baad Scholarship. Funds for the scholarship are raised from the Follies and other P.T.S.A. functions. The grant was named in honor of the first principal of the high school, Dr. Francis V. Baad, and has been awarded each year for five years.

Curtain Going Up

Diane Warnick and George Layne discuss the wonders of the future, in the setting of King Arthur's Court.

Arrested by King Arthur's guards for sorcery Hank Benet struggles to free himself so that he might prove his innocence.

On November 9 and 10, the Oak Park High Drama Club members presented "A Connecticut Yankee in King Arthur's Court" in the auditorium.

Playing the lead as Hank Bennet was George Layne who, only last year was Nat Miller in "Ah Wilderness." Hank Bennet was a young man who was mysteriously capable of turning back to 508 A.D.

The play started off in a New England home and was suddenly taken back to the time of King Arthur and his knights of the Round Table.

As the play progressed, Hank Bennet stupefied King Arthur and his court with 20th century magic.

The success of the play should be attributed to the Drama Club's sponsor and director, Mr. Robert Wurdock, and, of course, to the large number of students participating.

Beautiful scenery created for this play, is shown at its best in this scene with Queen Guenever and Hank Benet.

Drama Club Presents "A Connecticut Yankee"

Queen Guenever, King Arthur, and Merlin question the fate of the strange intruder from the future.

King Arthur's Court displays the detail and realistic costuming created for the play by members of the sponsoring Drama Club.

The success of the play may be attributed to the fine acting and directing by the members of the Drama Club.

the benefits of the weird conveniences of the future.

Pep Rallys,

At each of Oak Park's Pep Rallies, the Cheerleaders present a "crazy" sketch, usually "burying" the other team. Linda Steinburger, Shelly Brontman, and Joan Stein are the star players in "Little Riding Redskin".

Incorporated into the school year are the many spirited Pep Rallies sponsored by the cheerleaders and the Varsity Club. To further our knowledge of worldly thoughts, the administration presents a series of Assemblies designed to be both educational and interesting. Among this year's assemblies was a talk by Rev. Bob Richards (Mr. Wheaties) and a program sponsored by General Motors on "Cars of the Future".

HOLIDAY CONCERT. .

The A-Capella, Senior, and Freshman, choirs presented the beautiful HOLIDAY CONCERT. Mr. Robert Wurdock and Mr. Dave Jackson conducted.

and Assemblies, make a busy year

The Oak Park Cheerleaders are shown teaching the spirited cheers of the school. Pictured are Francine Golden, Lonnie Smith, and Sue Nelson.

Linda Steinberger, Sue Nelson, Sally Danbam, with their "assistance" for the day lead the crowd in cheering for the team.

In November, the Rev. Bob Richards visited Oak Park High to give a lecture on, "Obtaining Our Goals Through Working For Them."

STUDENT COUNCIL

Gena Gersten changes the letters of the new "Oak Park Marquee."

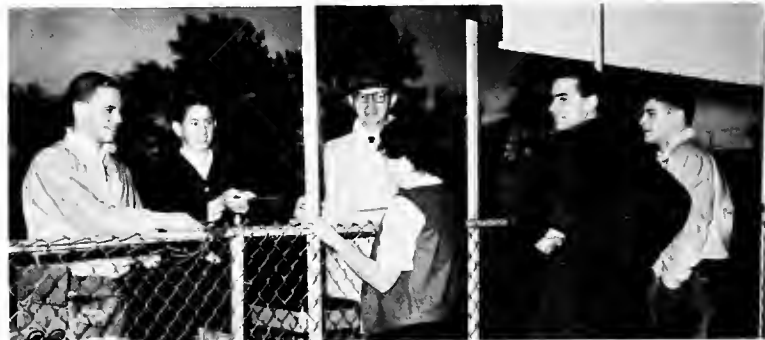

To raise funds for the Foreign Exchange Program the Student Council sponsors Bermuda Day. Shown inspecting the passes of Arlene Brody and Pam Epstein is Sherry Jackson. Linda Lawson, where is your spirit?

One of the many functions of the council is to keep the student body informed of the coming events. Here Bruce Hillman "updates" the council board.

Oak Park Homecoming was a "Splashing" success. Mr. Ray Renbarger, Oak Park's number 1 ticket seller, is suffering through the weather with Ron Berlin and Barry Brummer.

Runs a busy year

Every year the Oak Park High Student Council stages its frantic car wash. More soap reaches the students than the cars but fun is had by all and the profits go to the Foreign Exchange Program.

Each Thursday morning at 7:30 A.M. one may find the Student Council debating over issues brought to them by the student body. Eugene Stevelberg (president) is shown conducting the meeting.

Oak Park High School Student Council has always tried to work with the students and teachers to keep harmony in the school. This year the Student Council has helped new students and teachers with a handbook containing the rules and requirements of the school.

Oak Park High School was unable to house a foreign exchange student in '61 but has done so in the past. The Council will try to house one next year. In December the Student Council planned an Alumni meeting and in the spring sponsored a teachers tea.

Even before the school year had started, Council was busy working on the school calendar and planning one of the schools most important affairs, the Homecoming Pageant and Dance.

Promotion of school spirit is the primary purpose of the Pep Club. Under the sponsorship of Mr. Peter Russel, the Pep Club attends athletic events enmasse and makes posters to help publicize games and activities. Together they are the visible symbol of Oak Park school spirit. This year the Pep Club financed a scoreboard for the football field.

Engineering Society

The science of engineering proves fascinating to many of Oak Park High's students. A club was formed for those students so that they might learn more about this field. It does this through field trips to firms or campuses and guest speakers who have some background in the field of engineering. Many members of the Engineering Club give service to the school through their work on various projects. One such project was the outdoor score-board, found on our football field, and designed by the club's members in '61.

SPORTS

At Oak Park High, competition plays an important part in all phases of the school; from play try-outs to council elections, from teacher's pet to rank in class. But competition, as such, is the outstanding characteristic of the athletic department. All students participating in a sport learn the valuable lesson of playing as part of a team, and acquire a sense of sportsmanship. Athletics are, undoubtedly, a vital part of high school life.

Gridder's Tie for Second

Ernie Halliday gets help from the team doctor after being injured.

After a disappointing start, the Varsity Football Team came on strong in the last part of the season and proved to be a prominent factor in the Oakland "B" championship race. The team didn't win its first game until Homecoming, when it defeated Lake Orion. Two weeks later Troy came to Oak Park expecting an easy victory and therefore a crack at the championship, but the Redskins surprised everyone by defeating Troy and with the defeat, all their hopes for the championship.

The following week Avondale came to Oak Park with high expectations for the Oakland "B" title. All they needed was a tie with Oak Park, but Avondale was caught unaware, as Oak Park accomplished the upset of the year, and forced Avondale to settle for a tie with Troy.

This was the Redskin's first official season in the Oakland "B" Conference. It was very successful with the team tying for second place with a 3-3 record.

Coaches Do Excellent Job

One reason for the success of the football team this year was the superb coaching of Mr. Norman Krawczack and Mr. Richard Walden. Mr. Krawczack, the head coach, was responsible for coaching the backs and was also in charge of the practices. Mr. Walden coached the linemen throughout the entire season and ran the exercising at each practice session.

The two coaches instilled in the players the spirit which spurred them on to victory. They drove them to a successful season; their fine coaching proved to be an important reason for the excellent performance of the Football Team.

This year's captains, Paul Yelensky and Steve Barnes, both will return in 1962, and again lead the team. Said Steve, "The Cross Country Team has had a very successful season." He also stated that, although the team will have lost three valuable seniors, Gene Stevelberg, Mike Brooks and Del Brickser, its other players will help to increase the strength.

Coach Paul Boyd talks to his players during a time out.

The Oak Park Varsity basketball team ended the season holding fourth place in the Oakland "B" League with a 6-6 record. The highlights of the season came when two school records were broken: Robbie Goldenberg scoring 29 points; the team scoring 83 points against Cranbrook.

High hopes are held for next year's team with four of the five starters returning: Dennis Pink, Mike Rappaport, Al Ruby, and Mark Zacks.

Lettermen: Bob Glick, Leonard Fedon, Al Stahl, Art Pereira, Hugh Ross, and Allan Balfour.

Baseballers Have Good Start

The Oak Park High School Varsity baseball team started strongly in 1961, winning three of its first four games. The team faded however, in the latter part of the season to finish with a 3-9 won-lost record.

Hopes for the 1962 team looks bright with the return of three lettermen pitchers: Al Balfour, Art Perierra, and Bob Glick. Also returning are two excellent hitters, third baseman Ron Karas and first baseman Mark Zacks.

Joel Hauser takes batting practice.

Oak Park runners get off to a good start in the meet against Avondale.

The 1961 Track team was very strong, led by seniors Dave Pink, Leon Meyers, and Bill Trobaugh. The team, however, has a promising future. There are many good sophomores and juniors joining the Varsity; therefore the Track team promises to remain strong in future years.

Girls Get Back Into Action

The Girls' Athletic Association returned to Oak Park High School this year. All girls were eligible to compete in the intra-mural competition, which took place after school two days a week.

Such sports as volleyball, basketball, and softball were played. Letters were awarded to those girls who attended the meeting regularly, participated in the sports, and paid their dues.

Coaches: The Men Behind the Scenes

Athletic Director John Kestner

New faces were seen this year in the coaching department of Oak Park High School. Mr. Harvey Hershey, who had just entered the Oak Park school system, was the Varsity Tennis coach this year. Mr. Peter Russell, a new addition to the Oak Park High School faculty, took the place of Mr. James Beadle as the Varsity Golf coach. Mr. Gary Walters was moved up from Freshman Basketball coach to Junior Varsity Basketball coach.

The fine work of the coaches has brought much glory to Oak Park High in recent years. Many Oak Park teams have held high places in the Oakland "B" Conference. The coaches have been an important factor in the success of the teams. Headed by Mr. John Kestner, the athletic department is a very necessary part of Oak Park High School.
